About the editors

Consultant Editor

Dr Jonathan Little is a concert music composer whose works are published in Australia, and recorded in America on the ERM label. He holds a PhD in orchestration, and is a member of the Royal Philharmonic Society, the British Academy of Composers and Songwriters, and ASCAP in America. From 2001 to 2006 he was Principal of the Academy of Contemporary Music – Europe's largest school for rock and pop musicians. Also in 2001, he co-founded Music Business Journal, and was for five years its joint Managing Editor, while additionally writing on the future of the music and film industries for the Hudson Institute's prestigious American Outlook magazine. Jonathan is currently a music education consultant, Curriculum Advisor to the Brighton Institute of Modern Music, and Associate or Visiting Lecturer in Music at the Universities of Surrey and Chichester.

Assistant Editor

Katie Chatburn trained at the Royal Academy of Music as a media music composer. She currently works as a freelance composer and arranger on a variety of concert, educational and media music projects. She is Head of the Performance School at the Academy of Contemporary Music.

Contributing Editor

JoJo Gould is a UK-based lecturer, and was for five years joint Managing Editor of Music Business Journal. He lectures and consults on the European Degree in International Music Management, and holds a Master of Science degree in Business IT Systems. He was a co-founder and first Chairman of New Music in Scotland, and was previously Senior Lecturer in Music Industry Management at Buckinghamshire Chilterns University College.
